

H.E. MR RAM NATH KOVIND,
PRESIDENT OF THE REPUBLIC OF INDIA
New Delhi

Esteemed Mr President,

Kindly accept cordial greetings on the national day – the Republic Day.

The achievements of your country in economic, social, scientific, technical and other spheres are well known. India makes an important contribution to ensuring international stability and security, to solving issues of the regional and global agenda.

Russia values the relations of special and privileged strategic partnership with India. I am convinced that through joint efforts we will bring about further development of bilateral political dialogue, fruitful cooperation across all sectors as well as constructive interaction in global affairs. Undoubtedly, it meets the core interests of friendly peoples of our countries.

I full-heartedly wish you good health and success, and to all citizens of India – well-being and prosperity.

Respectfully,
V. Putin,
President of the Russian Federation
